Reunion Planning Update

Highlights: Class Programming

Y98 CASUAL DINNER AT YORKSIDE
After you drop your bags, join other early arrivals at the old go-to for slices, Greek salads, and all of the other favorites you remember. The cost of dinner is not included in the registration fee, so pay as you go.

Thursday evening, Yorkside Pizza, 288 York Street

THREE-CLASS SINGLES HAPPY HOUR AT ANCHOR
Mix and mingle with other singles from the classes of 1993, 1998 and 2003 at this pre-reception happy hour. Of course, non-singles are welcome too! Cash Bar.

Friday afternoon, Anchor Spa, 272 College Street

PARTY LIKE IT’S 1998!
The marquee event of the weekend. From Pearl Jam to Jock Jams, the 1990s were the greatest decade in music since, well, the 70s. Join us as we comb through our mixtapes for those classic 90s anthems and forgotten deep cuts that defined our bright college years.

Saturday night, Silliman College Courtyard, 505 College Street

#METOO: WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE? – Y98 SMALL GROUP DISCUSSIONS
The explosion of the #MeToo movement and subsequent exposure of how widespread sexual assault and harassment is in our society has challenged many to rethink gender dynamics in the workplace, in dating and in general. Join classmates for a seminar-style discussion of the underlying issues, possible paths forward and the roles we can each play to make spaces where everyone can thrive without fear. Moderated by classmates Jaime Harrison and Jake Sullivan.

Saturday afternoon, William L. Harkness Hall, 100 Wall Street

NICOLE CACCAVO KEAR ’98, AUTHOR OF THE FIX-IT FRIENDS AND NOW I SEE YOU
Bring budding bookworms and storytellers, aged 6-10, to a dynamic, interactive workshop with children’s book author and classmate Nicole Caccavo Kear. Children will get a glimpse into the hilarious, big-hearted world of The Fix-It Friends and become equipped with the tools they need to craft their own stories.

Saturday afternoon, Fitness Center, Payne Whitney Gym, 70 Tower Parkway
